UNITED STATES A MINING AND MANUFACTURING NATION

Consumption of Coal Will Continue to Increase Enormously

IN EARLIER YEARS WE WERE AN AGRICULTURAL PEOPLE

DR. HOLMES URGES ECONOMY OF OUR NATURAL RESOURCES

Washington.—That the continued prosperity of the United States depends upon the rightful use of its natural resources, such as coal, oil, natural gas and the other minerals, and that unchecked waste means poverty and ruin to any country, was the warning issued by Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, director of the United States Bureau of Mines, to the members of the Natural Gas Association of America at their recent convention in St. Louis, Mo.

The directors of the bureau, who believe that conservation of these resources is one of the most important problems confronting the people of the country today, said, "I am not interested in any way in that sort of conservation which looks toward the locking up of the natural resources of the country for the future when we need those resources ourselves during the present generation. I think we will all agree as a practical doctrine of conservation, that while we have a right to use everything we need at the present time, we have no right to waste unnecessarily what is the heritage of generations yet to come. It is hard, I find, to get people to realize the importance of conserving our natural resource under this principle, especially in view of the fact that we have a new, and to some extent, undeveloped country, but in talking with people from the older countries like Great Britain where they have operated industries for a thousand years as compared with our one hundred years, I find that they realize what a thousand years means and they realize how the resources which they are now using at so rapid a rate will, in a few hundred years, be practically exhausted and that when those resources are exhausted it means almost annihilation for any country situated as Great Britain is, and which is so entirely dependent for its commercial success upon the development of its various mineral resources with which it has been so generously blessed. And when we realize the importance of preventing waste of mineral resources, drawing our information from the experience of the older countries, it makes us more serious in dealing with this important problem in this country."

"In the last few decades, we have become a great manufacturing and industrial nation. In the earlier years of our history we were an agricultural people, but when you look at our production of coal, which is becoming more and more an index of the great industrial progress of the nation, it makes us realize pointedly the importance of conservation in view of increased demand, for you will find that during the past one hundred years—it was just about one hundred years ago that we began to use coal in the United States—we have doubled our consumption of coal every decade. In other words, from 1900 to 1910 we used almost as much coal as we had used during the seventy-five years preceding. When you say that to a man he is apt to reply, 'Of course that cannot keep up indefinitely,' but why may not consumption of coal increase enormously?

We used thirty years ago about one ton of coal per capita. During the past year we used nearly 6 tons of coal per capita. More and more we are becoming a labor-saving country: more and more we are becoming a manufacturing country; more and more we are becoming a country of transportation and all our industries depend upon the utilization of our natural fuels.

Birthday Party

Miss Eleanor Louise Bloudin entertained a number of her friends at her home on South Railroad Street Tuesday evening in honor of her 11th birthday. The decorations were pink and white. Served pink and white ices and cakes and pink and white mint. The guests departed at eleven o'clock declaring they had a very pleasant evening and wishing her many happy returns of the day. Games and music and a very interesting contest, hand painted cards for souvenirs were given to all. Those present were: Misses Kathryn Fenwick, Dorothy Bramwell, Sue Wade Davis, Catherine Bloudin, Ethel Wommac and Eleanor Louise Bloudin. Boys present were: Henry Clark, Robert Nourse, John and Palmer Fenwick and Earl Fenwick.

Greezy Creek Items

Bill Jones swapped his coon dog to the widow Side Bottom for a pair of banta roosters Monday night.

Miss Mandy Simpson who has been suffering with a full grown boil on the back of her neck is able to sit up.

Jack Riddle went to Madisonville Tuesday morning to see a tooth dentist and have his other tooth pulled, it has been aching lately.

William Wineberger was elected president of the Crap Shooters Union at a regular meeting held in Si Goldbergs barn Wednesday night.

It is reported that Joe Kellwagner will cover his chicken house this Fall.

The farmers in this section are considerably behind with their tobacco on account of an insufficiency of rain, some of the plants have gone to seed anyway.

GREEN RIVER CONTEST GROWING

In Interest and Enthusiasm—Candidates are Working in Dead Earnest

DARK HORSE COMES TO FRONT

Miss Sue Wade Davis jumped in the lead in the Green River Contest with 100,000 votes and Miss Fern Nichols, a dark horse, is second with 105,000 votes to her credit. May Lillian Fish is third with 97,000, Miss Ruby Cook, of St. Charles, is fourth with 75,000, Gladys Whitford, of this city, is fifth with 69,000 and Miss Gertrude Overall, of Madisonville, is sixth with 62,000 votes to her credit. All arrangements have been made for the trip and we will probably have the largest party this year than ever before. On arriving at Evansville the party will take a special car for Cook's Park, the Salt Pool and other places of interest. At four o'clock the car will stop at Second & Main Sts. which is one block from the wharf where the steamer Bowling Green will be waiting to take the party for a four hundred mile trip on Green and Barren rivers. It would be a good idea for the contestants to make thorough canvases of their towns and get all the new and renew subscribers they can, giving the Semi-Weekly Bee and the "Reliable Poultry Journal" both one year for $1.00. Remember you get 5,000 votes for every dollar turned in on subscription and that counts up rapidly.

GLENN-GREEN LAW IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Fire Insurance Companies Resume Business In Kentucky.

COMMISSION TO STUDY LAWS AND RECOMMEND EQUITABLE LEGISLATION

The fire insurance troubles have been settled, as a result of efforts of the several business men's organizations of Kentucky, and of the executive committee of the Kentucky Local Insurance Agents Association to bring together for a final conference the State officials and the official representatives of the many insurance companies that had suspended business after enactment of the Glenn-Green insurance bill by the late legislature. The Glenn-Green law has been declared unconstitutional by the courts and an agreement, in the nature of a compromise, has now been ratified by the insurance companies and most of them have already authorized their agents in Kentucky to resume writing business. A commission of three, appointed by the Governor, is "to make an exhaustive study of the present insurance laws of Kentucky and other States, and to formulate and present to the next regular session of the General Assembly a model fire insurance code of such laws as shall be equally just to the people of the State and the insurance companies, with its recommendation that existing statutes be repealed and that such code shall be submitted therefore." This commission is now composed of Henry G. Barrett, of Henderson, named by the Shippers and Manufacturers Association; George T. Payne, of Frankfort, named by the insurance companies; and Frank Green, of Carrollton, named by the State Insurance Board.

Cavaness-Mulvaney

A wedding of interest to a large circle of friends occurred on Wednesday morning at seven o'clock when Miss Katherine Cavaness, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cavaness, became the bride of Mr. Loyola Mulvaney. The ceremony was pronounced by the Rev. J. P. McParland, following the Nuptial Mass.

The little ring bearer, Mary Agnes Donahue, carrying the ring concealed in a Lily came first in the bridal procession, followed by the flower girls, Geraldine and Margaret Donahue, carrying French baskets filled with sweet peas, the handles of the basket were tied with large bows of pink tulle, carrying out the color scheme of pink and white. The flower girls and ring bearer wore dainty dresses of pink silk mull and caps of pink tulle. Next in the procession came the bride attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Cavaness, the Maid of Honor. The bride was beautiful in an exquisite creation of charmeuse and real Princess Lace, which trimmed the bodice of the gown, her long bridal veil which fell the length of her gown, was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, fastened to the real lace Juliet Cap was a modesty veil, which was drawn immediately after the ceremony by the attendant. Her only ornament was a diamond La Valliere the gift of the groom. She carried a white prayer book with long satin streamers of ribbon and orange blossoms. The Maid of Honor, walking with the bride, carrying a bouquet of Killarney roses, wore a beautiful gown of silk crepe meteor, with trimmings of rhinestones, her hat of lace was trimmed with a beautiful white plume. They were met at the altar by the groom and best man, Hugh Blair.

The church was beautifully decorated in pink and white floral gifts of the bride's friends; large green plants decorated the altar railing and besides the bride was a lovely Yucca Lily.

Immediately after the Mass the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, where an elaborate six course breakfast was served. The central ornament of the table was a beautiful bouquet of pink and white Killarney roses. Suspended from the chandelier was an immense wedding bell from which fell pink and white streamers fastened to the four corner of the table. Seated with the bridal party were Rev. J. P. McParland, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cavaness and Mr. and Mrs. Mulvaney.

The immense wedding cake was first cut by the bride, who cut the dime, Miss Margaret Kilroy, of Terre Haute, Ind., a house guest of the Cavaness family, was the lucky one in cutting the ring, which was daintily engraved with the date of the wedding, the thimble was cut by Miss Catherine Blair. The bridal bouquet caught by Miss Agnes Mulvaney.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Mulvaney, parents of the groom, entertained the wedding guests with an elaborate six o'clock dinner. The bride and groom left on 88 from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mulvaney, stopping at Cincinnati and Washington enroute to Wilmington, Del., where they will visit the uncle of the bride, Gen. William A. Riley. They will also go to Philadelphia and Atlantic City and on their return home will visit the sister of the groom, Mrs. Shearer.

The out of town guests were: Misses Margaret and Katherine Kilroy, of Terre Haute and Miss Laura Carter, of Cedar Hill, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulvaney will make their future home at Howell, Ind.

MRS. WARD KINGTON CALLED HOME

Estimable Lady of Mortons Gap Dies
Wednesday After Short Illness

Mrs. Emma Kington, about forty-eight years of age, died at her home at Mortons Gap Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, following an illness of several weeks, death being due to a complication of diseases. Mrs. Kington was the wife of W. W. Kington well known coal operator of Mortons Gap, and was a splendid Christian lady, having been a member of the Baptist Church for many years. Besides the husband she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Omer Oates, Mrs. Will Davis, Oswald Kington, Will, Rena Mae, Goebie, George and Marie Kington. The deceased is survived by many relatives living here and elsewhere in the county.

Funeral services were conducted at the Salem church by Rev. Claude Cole Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the remains being laid to rest in the cemetery at that place. Quite a number from Earlington attended the funeral.

ILLITERACY--- GOOD ROADS

Movement Launched by Kentucky Press Association

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION WILL HELP TO FIGHT ILLITERACY

Louisville, Ky., June 16.—Joining in the movement launched by the Kentucky Press Association at its meeting at Dawson Springs, the Executive Committee of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, at a meeting in Louisville yesterday, indorsed the proposed educational campaign looking to the elimination of illiteracy in Kentucky and the advancement of the cause of good roads. Steps were taken to raise a fund with which to carry on the work. A part of the propaganda is to stamp out illiteracy before the next census is taken six years hence.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, of Morehead, of "moonlight" school fame, was suggested as director of the campaign with respect to educational conditions in which the "moonlight" school idea will be introduced, and Robert E. Woods, of Louisville, was mentioned in connection with the leadership of the goods roads movement. In all likelihood the pair will lead the fight which already has assumed State-wide proportions, having been indorsed by the Kentucky Press Association, the Good Roads Association, the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, the Kentucky Educational Association and the Kentucky Society of Colonial Dames. Without saying whether she had accepted the leadership, Mrs. Stewart declared last night: "We are going to wipe out illiteracy by 1920."

Mrs. Stewart is one of a committee appointed by the Press Association to confer with the Executive Committee of the Goods Roads Association.

Col. R. J. McBryde presided at yesterdays meeting. It was the understanding that the fund needed to carry out the plan would be raised without trouble. A large part in the movement will be taken by the Press of the State and from week to week articles pertaining to good roads and educational conditions will be printed in the various papers.

May Modify Tariff.

There is a growing impression in well-informed circles that the tariff plans of the Administration as embodied in the Underwood bill will be modified in one important particular at least. The rumored change is one that can be made very easily if the President and Congress are so minded for it will consist merely in eliminating the provision at the end of Schedule which declares that after May 1, 1916, sugar shall be admitted duty free. Two factors are said to be influential in inducing the Democratic leaders to look favorable upon this course. The first is the consideration that the revenue of nearly $40,000,000 from sugar, always the best revenue producer of the tariff list, will be needed to help fill the growing gap between government income and expenditure. The second is the result of investigations which the Department of Commerce has made into conditions in the Louisiana sugar fields and which are now being extended to the sugar beet states. It is reported that the figures collected by the government experts show that the home sugar industry will be badly crippled by free admission of foreign sugar. While the President is not likely to commit himself until the report of his investigators are completed it is noteworthy that most of the talk of a possible amendment of the sugar tariff comes from Democratic sources.

Cures Stubborn, Itchy Skin Troubles
"I could scratch myself to pieces," is often heard from sufferers of Eczema, Tetter, Itch and similar skin eruptions. Don't Scratch—Stop the Itching at once with Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Its first application starts healing the Red, Rough, Scaly, Itching Skin. It is soothed by the Healing and Cooling Medicines. Mrs. C. A. Einfeldt, Rock Island, Ill., after using Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment, writes: "This is the first time in nine years I have been free from the dreadful ailment. Guaranteed. 50c at your druggist."

"Finished Abroad."

A few years ago much stress was laid upon that class of education which was "finished abroad," but "abroad" appears to have been moved from Europe to the United States. It is shown by official figures that the United States furnished only 451 students for German "finishing schools" and other educational institutions in 1912. Of these 328 were from northern states and twenty-three from southern states. The number of foreign students enrolled at 275 American universities, colleges and technological schools in the year 1913 not only reached the surprising total of 4,222, but this was an actual increase of 577 over 1911. Travelers upon the boats going to, or coming from South America, are impressed with the number of young men whose mission to the United States concerns the matter of their education. These young men after graduation, have proven their benefit to the foreign trade of the United States through the demand they have created for the American articles to which they have become accustomed, and in their business and official life they quite universally specify American equipment for foreign enterprises.

There are 1700 foreign students enrolled in the under graduate and graduate classes of arts and sciences in the United States. The next largest number is in courses in engineering, 801. Medicine follows with 339; 303 in dentistry, 275 in agriculture, and 256 in theology.

Canada sent 653 students; China, 594; Japan, 386; Mexico 228; Great Britain and Ireland, 212; Cuba, 209; India, 162; Finland, 124; Germany, 123. Every Latin-American country except French Guiana has representatives in this group of foreign students. The numbers range from two in the case of Uruguay and Paraguay through 43 for Argentina, 113 for Brazil, to the Mexican total of 223.

For any itching skin trouble, piles, eczema, salt rheum, bites, itch, scald head, herpes, scabies. Doan's Ointment is highly recommended. See a box at all stores.

Nautical Notes.

The Sea of Matrimony is filled with Hardships.—Lippincott's.

Drouth Is Severe In This Section.

Notwithstanding the fact that good rains have been reported all over Eastern Kentucky and as far down as Owensboro and the Green River section, just east of here, no rain of any consequence has fallen through this section of the State since the first of May, and crop conditions are depressing. Very little tobacco has been transplanted, meadows are parching, gardens are plainly showing the effect of the drouth and a great feeling of discouragement prevails.

A GOOD THING.

The experiment of working convicts on public roads in Illinois has proven more than a success, and its scope may be widened in future. The work was voluntary on the part of the prisoners.

It is a policy which might be followed to advantage in many other states, and for two very obvious reasons:

1st. When convicts are worked within penitentiary walls the articles they manufacture are sold to the public, and therefore that much work is removed from the ranks of honest labor.

2nd. When convicts are worked on public roads their labors are of benefit to every citizen of a community without at the same time being a detriment to some honest man who is in need of bread for himself and family.

There is every reason why convicts should be worked on the public highways of this country.

America is notorious for having the worst roads of any civilized country on earth, and yet if every convict was put to work in road improvement it would be only a question of time when the highways of this country would be the best in the world.

Take plenty of Time to Eat.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating so rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by All Dealers.

FOR BETTER ROADS

MAKING A SPLIT LOG DRAG

Anyone Can Make One to Cost From Almost Nothing to $2.50, Depending on Materials Used.

A subscriber in Latah county, Idaho, asks us to give him a plan for making a split log drag for working the roads in his county, and also wants to know how to use one, says the Western Farmer.

The drag may be made of a log, say eight feet long and 12 inches through, split in the middle, or of two pieces of sawed oak or other substantial wood, 2 by 8 inches. After a log is split, giving two flat, faced slabs, bore three two-inch holes in each slab, as shown in drawing; connect the slabs, facing the same direction, with three stakes or rounded 3 by 3s long enough to leave three feet of space between the slabs after the connecting pieces have been driven into the holes. Two or three planks can be nailed to these pieces, affording a place for the driver to stand, and, at the same time, strengthening the drag. Use a chain or strong rope for attachment to the double-tree. Supposing the drag to face west, and assuming that a chain is used, fasten one end of the chain to or around the left hand outside connecting brace, letting the chain pass over the top of the slab. If attached to the face of the slab, near the left hand end, the chain would interfere with the movement of dirt toward that end of the drag. The drag is run at an angle of about 45 degrees, so that dirt can be thrown toward one side. The other end of the chain must be fastened to the face of the front slab near where the right hand connecting piece comes through, and not around the connecting piece, as it is in the illustration.

Shoe about three feet of the bottom edge (right hand side) of the front slab with a piece of iron or steel of the right length, about three inches wide and a half inch thick, with one edge sharp or beveled. Put it on securely, letting the sharp edge project about half an inch below the edge of the slab. This shoe will enable the drag better to shave the surface and cut down the hard ridges which are usually met on roads that have not been kept smooth. A good drag will cost from almost nothing to $2.50, depending on the material and construction, and last five to ten years. Anybody can make one. Roads should be dragged 10 or 12 times a year. The time is after each soaking rain, so that the drag will form a smooth mud coat on the surface. When the frost is leaving the ground is an excellent time; the drag should be in use from then until winter. The work does not interfere with ordinary farming operations, as when it is the right time to drag the soil is too wet or the conditions unsuited for many kinds of field work. It is difficult to invent a good excuse for not dragging. Used at the right time and with proper frequency on practically all types of earthy soils and those of the clayey or rolling sections, the drag will make roads smooth, hard and convex—the three fundamental characteristics of an ideal dirt road. The process will form a sort of shell or casing over the surface which will shed water like a roof, and by distributing travel over the entire area, instead of confining it to the center, the shell will constantly increase in solidity. At the outset, dragging cannot be done so rapidly as when the road has been shaped up by several sweeps of the drag; after this preliminary work, the job can be done in half the time originally required. Any boy and farm team can operate the drag.

Listen and Build.

One good road is worth a dozen arguments in favor of better highways, and therefore the people should listen to the arguments and then build.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce Judge J. W. Henson as a candidate for Congress from the Second district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

Fight Against Illiteracy.

The campaign against adult illiteracy is on in Kentucky and the Good Roads movement is pledged to aid the fight for the wiping out of illiterates throughout the State. The Kentucky Press Association has pledged its best efforts to the general campaign and the Kentucky Good Roads Association has now endorsed the movement and will join its forces to help bring about the desired result. Newspapers and people associated in such worthy movements are waking up and are pledging that their efforts shall be devoted to the accomplishment of educational advancement and the material improvement of Kentucky. They are determining that the politician and his selfish designs shall be given a back seat while all join in an unselfish and united movement for better schools and good roads and the elimination of adult illiteracy in this good State that has been so long cursed with politics and politics and more politics.

The progress of this movement will be noted in The Bee from time to time. One of the initial steps of publicity in the present campaign against illiteracy in Kentucky was the publication in The Bee and in the Courier-Journal and other Kentucky papers of the exceptional fact that the recent Earlington school census did not contain a single illiterate among all its 650 pupils. This fact was commented on at the Kentucky Press meeting last week by Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, of "Moonlight School" fame, who is at the head of the Kentucky commission for the elimination of adult illiteracy. She announced in an address before the Press Association that numerous articles had been recently published by Kentucky papers about illiteracy as shown in the school census, and that in so doing the press was doing much good and forwarding the fight against illiteracy. She afterward said that the publication of Earlington conditions was the first to appear in the State papers and that this had started the agitation. The announcement in an address by the editor of The Bee of the absence of illiteracy in Earlington school census caused much favorable comment among the members of the Kentucky Press Association. There is probably nothing of which Earlington might more justly feel proud. But there is much that we might do in the movement against adult illiteracy and The Bee indulges the hope that some practical movement may take form here before long to give to those adults who need it an opportunity to learn to read and write, at least. News of a successful experiment along this line comes just now from New York, where on June 5th, thirty-five immigrants, from 16 years of age to 38, graduated from a school in an underwear factory, where they had learned in twenty weeks to read, speak and write English. They were given "certificates of literacy," tied with red, white and blue ribbon.

As has been generally predicted and believed, at least outside of administration circles, the bandit Villa is about to become Mexico, through the aid and comfort extended him intentionally or otherwise by the United States government. It would be an unhappy ending if this government should have to then intervene. And, having turned our backs on Huerta as an accessory to the murder of one man, shall we be cheerful at the prospect of being classed as partakers with a murderer and despoiler of coarser grain and by the wholesale.

PROTEST DISCRIMINATION IN ANTI-TRUST BILLS

Oppose Provision Favoring Labor and Farmers' Organizations.

Louisville, Ky., June 17.—Resolutions protesting against such provisions of the so-called anti-trust bills and the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill as may eliminate or exempt any person or class of persons from all the provisions of the bills and discriminate against business and business interests in favor of labor and agricultural organizations were adopted at the regular weekly meeting of the directors of the Louisville Board of Trade yesterday. The directors expressed the belief that the laws enacted by Congress should be general and applied to all persons equally, and that exceptions of the kind referred to in the resolutions adopted were undemocratic and unfair to the people as a whole. Copies of the resolutions are to be sent to Kentucky's representatives in Congress.

The Test of Love.

Of course sincerity and purity of affection has not one but many tests. If you love you must know where the other doubts and persist where the world deprecates. Love is because it is. For this reason one stands with it against the world and does not wield the weapons of the world against it. Surely its assurance in the face of the storm is one of its sweetest tests.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case.

Providence, R.I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework, so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABRIL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R.I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Hay-Ride Given by the Boy Scouts Tuesday Evening a Very Delightful Affair

The Scouts invited a number of their little lady friends for a Hay-ride Tuesday evening. The young merry-makers gathered at the home of W. H. Whitford where they started on their journey. After driving to Madisonville and seeing all there was in sight they returned home by the way of the Grape Vine road, which was found to be a very attractive driveway.

A few miles from town, at a very inviting spot, lunch was served which had been prepared by the young ladies and showed that they knew just what was required to make the evening's pleasure complete. The delightful lunch consisted of a variety of tempting things such as sandwiches of various kinds, salads of the best, bacon broiled by the Scouts, "while you wait," in a manner secret to the "Boy Scout" tribe, and has a peculiar flavor unknown to the "fair blossoms" of the sandwich and salad variety. Other tempting eats were served also which made this altogether a most delightful feature.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. W. H. Whitford and Miss Margaret Mitchell, and was composed of the following young people:

Misses Sarah Featherston, Florella Wright, Grace Martyn, Lena Davis, Gladys Walker, Thelma King and Gladys Whitford. Messrs Jack Whitford, Paul Moore, Jr., Guthbert Vinson, Tommie Featherston, Rex Hamby, Lonnie Deshon, Carl Umstead and Malcolm Stokes.

The entire evening was enjoyed by all present and, though returning home at a late hour very tired and sleepy, the young folks expressed themselves as having a most delightful evening.

GOVERNMENT AID FOR ROADS

Committee of Congress Expected to Make Favorable Report on Highways Measure.

The question of federal aid for good roads looms large. A joint committee of the senate and house, with Senator Bourne, Oregon (the father of the parcel post bill) chairman, is now investigating the entire subject with every likelihood of a report being submitted favorable to the general project. The main subject under investigation at present is the manner in which federal aid when finally forthcoming shall be distributed, whether to the states according to their population, their area or the mileage of their highways. In a recent magazine article Senator Bourne expressed himself as favorable to a plan which shall combine all three of these elements, inasmuch as it would not be fair to grant more aid to Rhode Island, for instance, than to Iowa, although the population of the former state is much larger than that of the latter; or more aid to Nevada, for instance, than to Nebraska, although the former state is much larger in area than the latter; or to some state which has already solved the good roads problem by thousands of miles of good roads, leaving a state with impassable highways suffering because of lack of the necessary aid.

With federal and state aid both imminent, an impetus is being given to road building greater than ever before. The statement is made that $500,000 a day is being spent for good roads in this country, but the general consensus of opinion is that until within the last year or two results commensurate with this immense expenditure have not been secured. There is a feeling all over the country that road building must be made as systematic and as scientific as railroad building, hence the movement for a state highway commission with plenary powers and scientific supervision by expert engineers. Congress has already appropriated $500,000, to be distributed $10,000 to each state, for improvement of stretches of road over which rural free deliveries operate regularly. The results of this appropriation will go a long way to show whether or not the federal government will be justified in making still greater appropriations and in going still more extensively into this important subject. The secretary of agriculture and the postmaster-general have both been ordered to loan their influence to the investigation, to the end that actual facts may be secured so that road building may be carried on in a practical manner.

GOOD ROAD-MAKING DEVICE

Machine Invented by Idaho Man is Simple in Construction—Fills Holes, Smoothing Road.

A road-making device for road building has been invented and patented by Hugh G. Taylor of Buhl, Idaho. The machine is simple in construction; it is a drag, constructed of a piece of sheet metal four feet long, four inches wide by a quarter of an inch thick, says a writer in the Western Farmer. It is attached by means of rods to either axle of a wagon or buggy, and drags immediately behind the wheel, smoothing the track and inclining loose dirt toward the center of the road-bed. At the outer end of the drag is a disk which serves to cut down the sides of the track.

Mr. Taylor has one of these machines attached to his mountain hack, and it attracts a great deal of attention. Good road advocates in southern Idaho are enthusiastic about the machine; it has been proposed by them that the county commissioners buy them in large lots and let them out to every farmer who will agree to use them, rebating the user on his road tax.

It is a well-known fact that the roads of southern Idaho are in a frightful condition for nine months out of twelve; from the time they dry up in the spring until about June they are in fair condition, but after that they are so full of "chuck holes" as to render them discouraging to a light rig driving fast, or to a heavily loaded wagon. By the use of Mr. Taylor's chuck hole filler this can be eliminated—it fills all holes, leaving the road smooth after the passing of the vehicle.

Possibly Too Frank.
A clergyman recently told his audience that young ladies and gentlemen should be entirely frank in their courtship—they should tell each other their weak points. Twenty-two engagements have been broken off in his congregation.

THE BEST PROOF

Given by an Earlington Citizen

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.
The story was told to Earlington residents.
Time has strengthened the evidence.
Has proven the result lasting.
The testimony is home testimony.
The proof convincing.
It can be investigated by Earlington residents.
John Franklin, Earlington, Ky., says: "I had pains in the small of my back when stooping or lifting and I tired easily. I also had headaches and dizzy spells and had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills proved their merit by relieving me. I have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills nor any other kidney remedy since they cured me some years ago. You are at liberty to use my statement as heretofore."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Franklin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Clara Barton's Splendid Work.
America owes its Red Cross almost entirely to one woman—Clara Barton. While resting in Europe, after her arduous work during the civil war, she learned of Mr. Durant, read his book looked into the treaty, saw its application in the wars then pending, and came home determined that her own country should ratify the treaty and put it to good use. Said Miss Barton: "If we had adopted the Red Cross idea in the Civil war Andersonville, with its 10,000, would never have stained our record."

Coughs and Colds

Weaken the System
Continued Coughs, colds and bronchial troubles are depressing and weaken the system. Loss of weight and appetite generally follow. Get a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery today. It will stop your cough. The first dose helps. The best medicine for Stubborn Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung troubles. Mr. O. H. Brown, Muscatine, Ala., writes: "My wife was sick during the hot summer months and I honestly believe Dr. King's New Discovery saved her life." Good for children. 50c and $1 at your druggists.

Prayer.
I would not be found anywhere where prayer would be inconsistent.—Rowland Hill.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.
As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists. 50c. large box, or by mail. The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

To Clean Furniture.
If your white enamel furniture becomes soiled or discolored it may be quickly and satisfactorily cleaned and restored thus: Melt one tablespoonful of bicarbonate of soda in one quart of boiling water; when cool, wash the furniture with the solution, using an old flannel cloth for the purpose.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Every family without exception should keep this preparation at hand during the hot weather of the summer months. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is worth many times its cost when needed and is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. It has no superior for the purpose of which it is intended. Buy it now. For sale by All Dealers.

To Keep Piano in Tune.
A glass jar filled with water and placed in the very bottom of the piano will help to keep it in tune and save the wood from warping.

For Rust Stains.
Lemon juice and salt will remove rust stains if rubbed on the surface before putting in water.

BILE is NATURE'S Disinfectant.

Release that dammed-up Bile and most of your ills are relieved. Molluscoid Laxatives do not touch the LIVER. Podophyllin (May Apple Root) does. Podolax is Podophyllin with the grips taken out.

Then Try
PODOLAX

Red Spot Prepared Liquid Paint

Will outwear White Lead and Oil applied in the ordinary way

One gallon of this paint will cover 300 square feet of surface, two coats, and do splendid work

New Indian Animal Stories

Why the Mole Burrows

By JOHN M. OSKISON

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Long time ago the mole was a big animal who lived on top of the ground and walked and talked with all the other animals; and the story of how he came to change his shape and go to live underground is what the old men used to tell to the little children as they walked across the young cornfields late on the sunny afternoons and saw where the mole had been at work throwing the earth up in ridges which the little boys liked to trample upon.

"Well," the old men would say, "it was a long time ago, and the story is about your great-great-great-grandfather and your great-great-great-grandmother when they were fine young people. When he was a fine young fighting man, strong enough to run from this settlement to the one across the mountains in one day and sit up all night in the council when he got there.

"And she was such a young woman as the old men used to like to see down at the spring, laughing and working at the deer skin. She was laughing all the time, under her black hair and out of her big brown eyes.

"And even when your great-great-great-grandfather came to see her and sang his song she only laughed and ran away to her mother. No, she would not be married to any young man—so she said.

"Long time, this strong and brave young man tried to win the hand of your great-great-great-grandmother, but she would not listen to him, and he made himself sick thinking about her. And it was then that the mole passed by his camp and felt sorry for him. So the mole said: "I know why you are sick and why you are weeping, and I will help you. I can make it so that the young woman will like you and come to you of her own free will. Just wait here for me. And then the mole went away.

"Late that night, when your great-great-great-grandmother was sound asleep, the mole burrowed his way under the ground and came up inside the house where she was asleep. And when he saw that she was sleeping very soundly, he took out her heart and went out the same way he came in.

"And then the mole went straight to the house of the young man and put the heart of your great-great-great-grandmother into his hands. It was so light that the young man could not even feel it in his hands! Then the mole said:

"You must swallow the heart, and then the young woman will be drawn to you."

"So the young man swallowed the heart of the young woman, and when she woke she had a very strange feeling.

"I must go to that young man," she said, and she no longer wanted to laugh when she thought about him. And then the feeling got so strong that she had to go, and when the young man saw her coming, he knew that she was to be his wife, and the mole's way was good.

"Now, all the medicine people of the tribe wanted to know what it was that made the young woman change her mind. When they found out it was the mole, they were angry with him, and wanted to kill him. You see, the mole had never been a fellow for talking, and everybody thought that he was just a stupid, soft-hearted fellow of no account.

"Of course, the mole did not want to be killed by the jealous medicine people, and so he hid himself under the ground—and ever since he has stayed there. And ever since he has been getting smaller, his nose has been getting sharper and he no longer has much use for eyes. Maybe because his eyes are no good, he eats the hearts of the grains of corn we plant in spring.

"But the mole earned his few grains of corn, don't you think so?" And the little boys would step off the ridge above the mole's burrow and nod their heads.

kin full in the chest or face. The manikin thereupon falls flat on his back, to the great amusement of any children who may be watching, but upon the goat resuming his normal position, the other figure boldly springs up and faces Billy again.

Origin of the Word Velocipede.

Frank H. Vizetelly tells "The Story of the Wheel" in the April St. Nicholas. After describing the introduction of the celerifere and the dandy-horse, Mr. Vizetelly says:

By this time the principle of balancing the wheel was understood, and the task of developing the crude vehicle of M. de Sivrac was begun. It was not long, however, before this machine was replaced by another, or was, perhaps, only renamed. During the French revolution a new form was introduced under the name of velocifere; and its riders became known as velocipedes. In the year 1808 one of these vehicles, shown at the Luxembourg gardens in Paris, was much used. Eight years later another wheel of similar form came into France, and gained popular favor at the Gardens of the Tivoli; this was the Draisine, named from its inventor.

Going to School.

Before the Boer war took place there were no country schools in the Transvaal or the Orange Free State, and very few in the towns. Now they have been established everywhere, but the trouble is to get scholars. The Boer father holds that if his boy can ride a horse and shoot a rifle he has all the education he needs, and many of them have been sent to jail for encouraging their sons to keep away from schoolhouses. A Boer mother holds that when her daughter can make bread she is as good as any young lady in the world.

"TIZ" SOOTHES SORE, TIRED, SWEATY FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet, swollen, bad smelling, sweaty feet. No more pain in corns callouses or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you have tried without getting relief, just use 'Tiz'.

'TIZ' draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet; 'TIZ' is magical: 'TIZ' is grand; 'TIZ' will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight on your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug or department store, and get instant relief.

Sportsmen's Aid Sought Against Forest Fires.

Because of the fact that many forest fires are set through the carelessness of hunters, campers, and others who go into the woods for recreation, the forest service has taken up with manufacturers of firearms and ammunition the question of a cooperative arrangement through which purchasers and users of guns and cartridges shall be reminded of the fire danger.

It has been pointed out that in the lumber regions of the northwest, for example, manufacturers and other business men have been having printed or stamped on their stationery and pay checks various crisp, catchy statements about the loss which the public suffers through the decreased demand for labor and decreased money in circulation if timber, which is the source of many of the northwest's industries, is burned up.

It has also been pointed out that in the east particularly many forest fires are started by the carelessness of hunters, who drop burning matches, cigar or cigarette stumps, or pipe coals in the woods, or perhaps build a fire which is left burning when the hunters go on. Forest fires of course greatly injure the interests of sportsmen by robbing the birds of their proper cover. They also impair the food supply of both birds and big game, through the destruction of the undergrowth which furnishes browse, berries, and other food.

The eastern woods are exposed to the danger from fires principally in the spring and fall when most of the trees are bare and the leaves on the ground are dry. The spring fires, many of which are due to trout fishermen, may destroy the eggs of game birds and even the young birds themselves. Since trout fishermen are likely to hunt in the fall the same individuals, if careless, may be a source of danger at both seasons.

It is suggested that the manufacturers of arms and ammunition ought to be sufficiently interested in the matter of perpetuation of game to be willing to help in the campaign against forest fires. This help may come through the printing of some brief fire warning on cartridge boxes or some slip to go with any hunting or camping supplies which are furnished. Several manufacturers have already expressed interests in the matter and their willingness to help.

Wireless Weather Forecasts for Great Lakes.

A daily weather bulletin for the Great Lakes is now being sent out from the radio station at Radio, Va., according to an agreement just arrived at between the United States Weather Bureau and the United States Naval Radio Service. This bulletin is sent out in two parts. The first consists of code letters and figures describing the weather conditions actually prevailing at 8 p. m., that day at various points along the Great Lakes. The second part of the bulletin is a special forecast of the winds that will probably be encountered on the lakes. This is distributed to shipmasters on the Great Lakes by the Naval Radio Service during the season of lake navigation—usually from about April 15 to December 10—in the same way that weather conditions for the North Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico are sent out. The latter service was begun in July of last year. It proved popular and the Weather Bureau was encouraged to extend the service to the Great Lakes.

Things Fatal to Healthy Life.

If we cease to struggle or think, and are content to live a purely animal life, the activity of our brain powers quickly ceases and we are mentally dead. Struggle, action, aspiration is dying, but it means living. Introduce the poison of vice, and there is a cessation of mental life as fatal as that caused to the body by arsenic.

Historic Trowel.

James K. Hackett has presented the Players' club the trowel with which his father, the late James Henry Hackett, laid the corner stone of the old Booth theater and the corner stone of the first statue of Shakespeare ever erected in this country, which stands on the Mall in Central park. This trowel will be used by the players to lay the corner stone of the Booth memorial statue shortly to be erected in Gramercy park.

Chief Sufferer in the Duel.

The cost of duels is dwelt upon by Aurelien Scholl in his "Reminiscences." He tells of the elaborate preparations made for a hostile encounter between two journalists whom he knew. One of them borrowed $20 from Scholl to meet his share of the expenses. This sum was never returned. "After ten minutes perfunctory fencing," he adds, "the principals embraced each other, and both left the ground without a scratch. I was the only man hit."

How to Become a Poet.

"The art of writing poetry is very difficult at first, but it becomes easy by practice," says an English writer. "The best way for a beginner is to take a line from another poem; then he should construct a line to fit it; then, having won his start, he should strike out the first line (which, of course, does not belong to him) and go ahead. When the poet has written three verses of four lines each, he should run out and find a girl somewhere, and read it to her."

Sought to Avert Disaster.

Waiter (to town councillor, who is furtively feeling the edges of the knives arranged on the banquet table)—"It's all right, Mr. Brown. Every one of 'em has been sharpened." Town Councillor (moodily)—"Ah, wor looking for a blunt 'un; t' last time Aw wor 'ere Aw cut my mouth!"—Liverpool Mercury.

Good Reason.

"I see that Brinkerton has at last quit smoking. His doctor told him more than a year ago that it was bad for him, and his wife has been trying for a long time to persuade him to give it up. Evidently he has at last been willing to listen to reason." "I don't know whether it can properly be called listening to reason or not. His pretty stenographer complained that cigar smoke hurt her throat."—Judge.

At Once Thought of Dad.

A lady once showed her little girl a beautiful new silk dress which had just arrived from the dressmaker, and by way of improving the occasion, she said: "You know, dear, all this was given up by a poor worm." The little girl looked puzzled for a minute or two and then said: "Do you mean dad, mamma?"
